

curriculum vitae - Felix Frick

Born 1962, studied business administration at University Linz. Since 1989 he works in the healthcare IT business at systema human information systems, Austria. He started as developer for laboratory information systems and gathered experience in the management of large customer projects.

1999 he became Product Manager for the clinical solutions of systema and head of marketing of systema

Since 2007 he works for CompuGROUP in HIS development project and end of 2008 he was appointed vicepresident for product management in the CTO division of CompuGROUP.

Felix Frick is married and has two children.