

Biography

Dr. Caroline Wagner

Dr. Caroline Wagner completed her degree in Business Administration at the University of Hamburg. After having worked for the Northern Association of Company Health Insurance Funds as a project consultant for marketing and acquisition she completed a Master of Science specialised in the Economic History of the European Community at the London School of Economics and Political Science (LSE). For the latter she received a scholarship. Then Dr. Wagner accomplished her PhD at the John F. Kennedy Institute of the "Freie Universität" in Berlin with a thesis on health insurance costs comparing the U.S. to Germany. She was a scientific policy advisor in health care at the Hamburg parliament until she started at Germany's largest statutory health insurance fund "Techniker Krankenkasse" (TK) at the Strategic Business Development Department for Europe and Overseas. Dr. Wagner has a bilingual background in French and German.
